I keep my life busy to optimize my way of life by working hard and spending time with my friends and family. I wish to improve myself efficiently by sharing knowledge and expertise gained from the different backgrounds of people.

About me

I am a tireless seeker of knowledge, occasional purveyor of wisdom and also, coincidentally, an engineer. I am a world traveler who love meeting new people and try everything new. I enjoy surfing and I have visited to more than 20 different surf beaches all over the world. I love surfing because it is one of the most physically and mentally intense sports.
