BRAINDEA
brainstorming on your own world map

Make East Asian Students More Integrated & Engaged in Brainstorming with Their Western Teammates

Performing brainstorming with this toolkit is just like building up your own world map. It includes three A0 posters. First one is used for divergence. Each pair puts their post it on the route of their land. The second poster is used for clustering, all people categorize ideas and put similar ones on the island paper, and stick island papers on the poster. The last one is used for convergence. Each pair make refined ideas on treasure map, and stick treasure maps on the poster.

Tasks for Break

The access of tasks for break was done by QR code technique. We created each website for each QR code. When people scanned the QR code, they would access to the website to see what the task was. Four types of tasks were created. They were all related to culture, and they were sharing the festival of your home country, sharing the food of your home country, sharing the landmark of your home country and speaking some sentences in your home language.
