

THE DRESSING ROOM SHOW

Sam van Eijk - Exploring Interactions - Final Presentation

INTRODUCING CONTEXT

CONTEXT

Teenage Girls

Dressing Rooms

Insecure

Scared

Cautious

Shy

DESIGN GOAL:

“I want teenage girls to feel confident when coming out of the dressing room to show their clothes.”

RESEARCH:

Why don't they come out with confidence?

Workbooks

Generative Sessions

Social Fear v.s. Feeling Pretty

DESIGN & RESEARCH EXPLORATIONS

Hello, Are you There?

Intervention

Observations

Pay Attention Please!

I'm coming out,
OK?

Interventions

DESIGN DIRECTION:

Assuring the user of someone's presence and attention when coming out.

Two-way Communication

Design Intervention

INTERACTION VISION:

“I want the interaction with the person outside to feel like an intimate spark. Like a dog wagging his tail when he sees you.”

Silhouettes

FINAL DESIGN

Two Spotlights across each Dressing Room

All the ingredients to step out with confidence.

Being Together

Like a Model!

Experience

Intimate

Subtle

Natural

Interaction

Soft

Glamorous

Warm

EVALUATION STUDIES

Prototype

User Study 1

User Study 2

Looking down

Hands together

Waiting person is not looking

Looking into the eyes of waiting persons

Standing straight

Arms spread

Posing

RECOMMENDATIONS

Silhouettes:

- Test with more prototypes
- Focus on presence of friends/ prevent distracting

Spotlight:

- Experiment more with brightness/colors

QUESTIONS?